Welcome to Vodafone

You have chosen Vodafone, the biggest and most innovative provider of mobile communications in the world. We are very pleased that you have chosen Vodafone and will do our very best to make certain you always get the very best service possible. You now have a broad array of services available to you in your office, on location, or on the road.

In this user's manual you will find additional information about Vodafone's convenient services. Use it, along with your own mobile telephone user's manual. If you still have questions, do not hesitate to call our toll free number at 1200. Our operators will be glad to assist you in the use of our services.

We wish you much success with your business. For further information, you can visit our website at www.vodafone.nl.

Quick start

Calling and receiving calls

Before you begin

In your telephone user's manual you will find information about how to:

- Charge batteries
- Insert the SIM card
- Turn on your telephone
- Enter your pin code
- Wait for a connection
- Prepare for use

As a Vodafone business subscriber, you can make and receive calls, send and receive SMS messages and make use of all extra services wherever you may be. If you experience difficulties with any of the matters discussed above, call 1 2 0 0 and one of our service representatives will be happy to assist you.

Initial '0'

Depending on which business subscription you have, it may be the case that when you call 'long' numbers of colleagues or other long numbers, you will need to enter an extra '0'. In such cases you would call, for example, 0 0 4 3 3 5 5 5 5 5 5.

Ask your telecom manager whether the initial '0' applies to your subscription. It is possible to discontinue the necessity to enter the initial '0'. The telecom manager can arrange this by calling his or her Vodafone account manager.

If the initial '0' applies to your subscription, then whenever you are in the Netherlands, you will need to enter the extra '0' for all the examples described in this manual. For example: 0 1 2 3 3 for Vodafone Voicemail. The extra '0' is not necessary to send SMS messages.

Safe and secure

Pin code protection

The Vodafone SIM card – the Subscriber Identity Module card – is the basis of your Vodafone subscription. Your subscription information and your pin code are stored on this card. Other information, such as programmed telephone numbers or SMS messages, is also stored on the SIM card. Your Vodafone SIM card can be protected against misuse with a pin code. If you activate this security measure then you will be asked to enter your pin code whenever you turn on your telephone. Without the pin code, no one can use your mobile telephone. You can turn the pin code protection on or off. But to prevent misuse, we recommend that you always use the pin code protection.

Changing your pin code

Your pin code usually consists of four numbers. It can consist of up to eight numbers. The standard default setting for the pin code is 0 0 0 0. You should change this standard code as soon as possible and create a personal pin code. To change the standard pin code, consult the user's manual for your mobile telephone or enter:

Puk code

* 0 4 * * (old pin code) * (new pin code) * (new pin code) #

If you have entered your pin code incorrectly three times, the SIM card automatically blocks your mobile telephone.

The text 'PIN blocked' or 'blocked' appears on the screen. With the Personal Unblocking Key code (puk code) you can end the blocking and enter a new pin code. To change your pin code using the puk code, consult the user's manual of your mobile phone or enter:

* * 0 5 * (puk code) * (new pin code) * (new pin code) #

In case of theft or loss of your SIM card

Contact Vodafone Customer Service at 1200 immediately. Your SIM card will be immediately blocked, so that misuse is not possible. You can request a new SIM card from your telecom manager or Vodafone Customer Service at

+ 3 1 6 5 4 5 0 0 1 0 0.

Defective SIM card

If damaged, your SIM card may be unusable. The message 'card defective' or 'GSM error' will appear on your screen. If the card has been damaged, call Vodafone Customer Service at 1 2 0 0 or 0 6 5 4 5 0 0 1 0 0.

Safe mobile telephone use

Business goes on, even when you are driving your car. In the interest of highway safety, it is prohibited in the Netherlands and in most European countries to use your mobile phone without a hands-free system while you are driving. You may have to pay a steep fine if you violate this law. Vodafone therefore advises you to always call hands-free when you are in your car. It is also a lot easier and much more convenient. You will find an extensive range of hands-free accessories at Vodafone. Your mobile telephone operates with radio waves and it is not always possible to prevent interference. For safety reasons, it is not advisable to use your phone too close to sensitive equipment. Therefore, do not make calls in hospitals or airplanes, or near petrol pumps. If you have your voicemail turned on when your telephone is off, you do not have to worry about missing a call.

Business services

Vodafone Blocking

General services

With Vodafone Blocking, you can block certain incoming and outgoing calls. Blocking is handy, for example, if you are abroad. That way you can avoid having to pay for incoming calls. Ask your telecom manager or Vodafone Customer Service how to operate blocking.

Vodafone Number ID

Vodafone offers you the possibility to protect your privacy. You can decide for yourself if your number will be visible on the mobile phone of the person you call or if your number will appear on the itemised bill of another person.

Number ID is turned on as standard. This means that you will see the numbers of incoming callers and that your own number will be visible to others when you call them.

Do you want your number to be visible to others when you call?

If you would like your number to be visible for a single call, enter *31# before the number you want to call. If you would like your number to always be visible to others, call 1333 and choose option 1.

Do you want to block others from seeing your number when you call?

If you would like to block your number from being visible for just one call, enter #31# before the number you want to call. If you would prefer that others can never see your number, call 1333 and choose option 1. Some mobile phones offer the function of setting number ID options via the phone menu. Consult the user's manual for your mobile phone for more information.

SIM card and place it in a different phone. To take best advantage of this feature, turn one device off before you turn on the other one.

Personal settings

You will have to re-enter personal settings, such as your personal phone book and the pin code linked to your SIM card, for both SIM cards.

You can make and receive calls with the Vodafone Duo Card all around the world (now more than 175 countries). Visit www.vodafone.nl for additional information.

All incoming phone calls can be automatically forwarded to a number where you can be reached. Four different settings are available that can all be active at the same time. Vodafone Menu

Visit www.vodafone.nl for additional information.

The Vodafone SIM card gives you an extra menu on your mobile telephone, with which you can get quick access to the most frequently used services. You can also change the personal settings of, for example, your voicemail, with Vodafone Menu.

Quick and easy access to:

- Vodafone Customer Service
- Vodafone Directory Information
- Vodafone Voicemail
- Vodafone Call Forwarding
- Vodafone SMS Information
- Vodafone MMS Information

The advantages

Vodafone Menu also works outside the Netherlands. If a service is not available on the foreign network, you will receive notification of this. Vodafone Menu only works on telephones that support this function.

For information on Vodafone Menu, you can call Vodafone Customer Service at 1 2 0 0 or visit www.vodafone.nl.

Vodafone Voicemail

Voice services

Vodafone Voicemail is a convenient service to keep you in touch with the people around you, even when you cannot immediately answer your phone. It is very easy to activate your voicemail: call 1 2 3 3, follow the instructions, and your voicemail is ready for use. Changing the settings is also easy. Your voicemail menu is always accessible to allow you to change the settings as you wish. It is, after all, your personal voicemail. You can also go to www.vodafone.nl. There you will find detailed information on all the possibilities of Vodafone Voicemail.

Using your voicemail for the first time

Vodafone Voicemail is turned on automatically. When you use your voicemail for the first time, the welcome menu will help you with your personal settings. We advise you to use this menu to set up your voicemail to meet your own needs. In just 4 steps, your voicemail will be personalised and ready for use.

Tip

To help you record your message, write it down first.

- 1 Creating your voicemail message
Call: 1 2 3 3. Vodafone offers you the option of just identifying yourself by name or recording a complete personal message. Personalising your voicemail is important. That way, those who call you know for sure that it is your voicemail they have reached and they will be more likely to leave a message.
- 2 Choose your language setting
Vodafone allows you to select the language you want, either Dutch or English.
- 3 Select the voicemail notification
This is the way in which Vodafone notifies you that you have a voicemail message. The standard setting is that you will receive notification of a new voicemail message via SMS. The message will tell you how many new messages you have in your voicemail box.
- 4 Choose and enter a personal pin code
Vodafone advises you to enter a personal pin code. That way, you can be certain that you are the only person with access to your voicemail. The default pin code is 3 3 3 3.

Tip

Think of a pin code that is personal, but not too obvious. You may already have a pin code that you are using elsewhere that is suitable and easy to remember.

Your voicemail is ready for use

You can also take advantage of the other options on the voicemail menu

This step is optional. These other options allow you to adapt your voicemail to your own wishes even further.

You can skip this step and, if you wish, take advantage of these options at a later date. You can do that by entering 1 1 after listening to your voicemail messages. That will take you to the main voicemail menu. Then follow the instructions.

Receiving and listening to messages

When someone leaves a voicemail message, Vodafone will inform you as soon as your phone is available via an SMS. The message tells you how many messages you have. You can call 1 2 3 3 to listen to the messages.

While listening to your voicemail you have the following convenient choices:

- To phone the caller back immediately, press 1
- To listen to the message again, press 2
- To listen to the previous message, press 2 2

Tip

A detailed overview of many frequently asked questions and answers is available from the voicemail menu. You can listen to it by pressing 1 1 for the main menu and then 9 after connecting to voicemail.

- To send a voice message to the caller, press 3
- To rewind message 10 seconds, press 4
- To listen to the message again, press 4 4
- To save the message for a longer period, press 5 ***
- To send the message to My Vodafone e-mail account, press 5 5
- To fast-forward the message 10 seconds, press 6
- To go to the next message, press 6 6
- To delete the message, press 7 7
- To delete all non-new messages, press 7 7 7

You can also make use of the following standard buttons:

- To go to the main menu, press 1 1
- To request the help menu, press 9
- To pause (or continue), press 0

* This option is only possible if, during the original set-up (see 'using your voicemail for the first time'), you also selected the other options from the voicemail menu.

No message?

Sometimes, the caller does not leave a message. So that you know who has called, you will receive an SMS message from Vodafone with his or her number. You can then decide for yourself whether to return the call you will receive an SMS message from Vodafone with his or her number. You can then decide for yourself whether to return the call.

- Call 1 2 3 3
- Press 1 1
- Press 1 Personal settings

Basic voicemail settings

Tip

To make sure that your voicemail has been turned off, call your own number. If you are not forwarded to Vodafone Voicemail, then you know that your voicemail has been turned off.

Recording a duo greeting

You can easily switch between two greetings that you have recorded. In certain cases (for example, if you have a part-time job) it might come in handy to specify once when you want each greeting to be played on your voicemail. Vodafone Voicemail will then switch messages automatically according to the times you set.

Turning voicemail on and off

In the Netherlands, you can turn off your voicemail by calling 1 2 3 3 0, and then pressing . To turn voicemail back on, call 1 2 3 3 1 followed by . If you are going abroad and want to turn off your voicemail, it is best to do that before you leave, as described above.

To change voicemail notification

- 2 personal settings

Sending an MMS message is simple

Vodafone MMS messages: Immediately take, send and receive photos.

You can include text, images and sound in an MMS message. You take a photo with an MMS compatible device. Add your text and, if you want, complete the message with an appropriate sound.

Receiving an MMS

You can send MMS messages to any phone that is compatible with MMS messages, including those of other telecom providers. But you can also send MMS messages to any 'ordinary' mobile phone or e-mail address. The person receiving the message will receive an SMS or an e-mail, respectively, with a link to the www.vodafone.nl website where the message can be seen by the addressee only.

Check your telephone user's manual to learn how to send an MMS.

You can always receive MMS messages, even if your telephone is not compatible with MMS or if you have not activated the MMS function. When you receive an MMS, you will hear a beep and see a small envelope icon on your display. Via the menu, you can read the MMS, answer it immediately, or erase it.

There is space available on your SIM card to store the MMS messages that you sent and received. If your phone indicates that you have too little memory capacity to store new messages, you should erase old messages. Check the user's manual of your telephone to find out how to do that.

Note

If your phone is not compatible with MMS or if you have not activated the MMS function, you will receive an SMS, including a personal login and password, which you can use to see the MMS online at www.vodafone.nl.

You can learn more about these possibilities at www.vodafone.nl.

Connecting

When you turn on your phone, it will automatically choose the right network for the location. You can also choose a network manually.

Vodafone Data & Fax

Vodafone Data & Fax allows you to receive data that has been sent from a landline. In addition to a number for voice communication, you can request an extra number from your telecom manager for data and fax communications. With this number you can receive data and faxes at any time and anywhere on a laptop, notebook or PDA. This service also works outside of the Netherlands, provided that the foreign network supports the service. If you link your telephone to a laptop or PDA, you can communicate with any computer system or fax machine anywhere in the world.
